- 6 Other matters

From the Working Groups: Sr. A.M. de Vreede scmm-m, Sr. M. Panevskaja scmm-m,
Fr. J. Schotte cicm, Fr. H. Dargan sj

From the Secretariat: Fr. B. Tonna

In the chair: Fr. H. Mondé sma

The OMI, OSU, RSCM, SCMM-M Superiors General were excused.

1. Projects for 1970-71: A list of projects (70/615 ff) had been compiled by the Secretariat in consultation with the different Generalates and Working Groups. Most of the projects had already been initiated. The following points were made during the discussion of each item on the list:

Preamble: Cooperation does not "happen" spontaneously: it has to be planned. But the plans of the Generalates can only be "indicative" (that is, not "imperative") in nature. They can only "inspire" the field missionaries to take decisions to work together. They cannot tell these missionaries what to do. The Generalates, however, could plan together on how to inspire (again, together) their missionaries to coordinate their activities. And such "planning together" should not be restricted to the missionary sending institutes but also to the cooperation of these with other agencies.

Project 1. Credit Union Seminar: A progress report would be given to the next Assembly. Personal calls at the Generalates would be made by members of the ad hoc Task Force in order to clarify the objective of the seminar: a proposal for joint action in the credit union sector, for each developing continent.

Project 2: Health Care Seminar: Progress had been registered on the preparation of this Seminar. The International Confederation of Catholic Hospitals had secured the necessary funds.

Project 3: Directories on Social Communications: Funds had been secured for a who's who in Radio TV for Latin America. The response to the questionnaire on Catholic involvement in the electronic media had been very high and the directory should be ready by the end of the year.

Project 4: Communications Seminar: The objective would be an encounter between the Generalates and the Sedos WG to study ways and means of mobilizing the mass media for evangelization. No major expenses would be involved.

Project 5: Christian China: The President of the USG, Fr. Arrupe had asked Sedos to convene a commission of Superiors General (Men) whose institutes were interested in mainland China. Superiors General of institutes of women would also be invited. It was agreed that Sedos call a general meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 22, 1970 in order to study the recommendations of the Hong Kong session (= the China project 70/410 ff) and, eventually, to select the commission envisaged by the USG. The ultimate objective would be the approval, by the Holy See, of the Hong Kong recommendations, the appointment of a Bishop to assume responsibility for the China project and the appropriation of funds for this project.

Project 6: Personnel Development Programme: The Committee was satisfied with the progress registered. But periodical reports should be circulated in the weekly bulletin and in the news services of the different Generalates.

Project 7: Referral services: It was important that Sedos inform the Generalates where and how to secure funds and personnel for their missions.

Project 8: Advisory Services - SEDOS-PWG: See below, n° 4.

Project 9: Weekly bulletin: Under its present form the bulletin was achieving its purpose of informing the Generalates on what was going on in the Sedos group. But, it was agreed, much of the data (including the trends of thought of the Superiors General) was not reaching the missionaries. In order to get across to the field the "value" of what the Generalates were doing and thinking, a separate "information service" would be desirable. This would take the form of a new service, whose items could be channelled tale quale in the news services of the different Generalates. It was agreed to ask Fr. Van Asten to second Fr. Moody wf to undertake this service. The two objectives would be a) inform the missionaries b) inform the "world" of what is happening in and through Sedos.

Project 10: Opinion Survey: It was agreed to continue this project

Project 11: Country, Diocese and Community Files: It was agreed to go ahead with this project.

2. Membership fees. Bro Schnepf presented his conclusions and recommendations after a study of the implications of adjusting the criteria for establishing the membership fee of the Institutes associated in Sedos. These recommendations - which endorsed the status quo (see 70/618 ff) were accepted with the following amendements:

- to point 7, after no congregation add: from among those which are already members
- to point 8, after. If Sedos, add: over and above the necessary reserve

Bro Schnepf hoped that by the end of the year, Sedos would be very close to paying its debts to the White Fathers (see financial statement, appended).

3. Agenda of the XXVIII Assembly: It was agreed that the agenda of the next Assembly of Superiors General should be limited to a business session which would discuss the above projects and the membership fee. It would be followed by a concelebrated Mass in memory of Miss Joan Overboss (whose first anniversary falls a Sept. 17, 1970). After supper, the Superiors General and their delegates would be invited for a "get together" which would introduce the new "working" season.
4. PWG-SEDOS programme: It was agreed to ask Fr. Van Asten to second Fr. Grosskortenhans to be the Director of the SEDOS-PWG programme. With the Secretariat and the various Panel leaders, he would coordinate and prepare the meetings by country. Preparation would involve an agenda, documentation, and procedural decisions - all agreed on by a core group. It was agreed to postpone the scheduled FAO briefings until Agrimissio opens its offices.
5. The Catechist cause was considered to be well taken care of, now, and it was agreed that there was nothing for Sedos to undertake at this stage.
6. It was agreed that, following the official invitation, Sedos should be represented at the Council of Europe seminar on voluntary services in November. Fr. Schotte could be the representative.

DO IT YOURSELF DEVELOPMENT

THE CREDIT UNION: A BASIC TOOL

As Credit Unions Continue to help thousands of people in developing lands attain their goals of economic betterment, more and more non-profit social improvement agencies are developing a new regard for what credit unions can accomplish. Here is how Benton Rhodes, Executive Secretary of Agricultural Missions, Inc. (the technical assistance arm of the National Council of Churches of the United States) views the role of credit unions.

We see people as both the key to economic development and the end goal of the development process," says Rhodes. "This has led us to be more and more interested in credit union movement, which we see as a basic tool for human development around the world. Here are ten specific reasons, as we see them. The Credit Union, when it is well established:

1. "Provides a defense against abusive loaning practices and the beginnings of a power base for the poor.
2. "Is an organized laboratory of community action, thus preparing groups to tackle a variety of problems together.
3. "Gives a powerful incentive for learning improved farm practices. This is particularly true of the Latin American adaption of the Credit Union which specialize in guided production credit.
4. "Is a practical school for learning thrift and good management.
5. "Provides legal safeguards often lacking in earlier informal group saving and loan arrangements.
6. "Helps in the implementation of land reform by replacing paternalistic patterns of leadership.
7. "Develops natural leaders into effective agents of change in the community.
8. "Relieves the missionary or priest from the temptation to act as the single-handed benefactor of the needy in the parish.
9. "Capitalizes on the common bond of religion without fostering denominational exclusiveness.
10. Puts the Gospel to the acid test in the economic realm where man's daily life is lived."
